Dreaming of
South America with Akorn

AKORN

AKORN DESTINATION MANAGEMENT

RECOMMENDED BY AKORN

Last month I was thrilled to lead an educational trip for some of our top clients to experience first hand Akorn's seamless regional operation and the many things that we have developed in Chile, Argentina and Brazil. Starting South of Santiago, we made it across the Andes to Mendoza, then Buenos Aires, Iguazu and Rio de Janeiro. On this journey, we got to embrace and experience the essence of the region with every sip of wine, exploring landscapes on horseback, getting wet at the mighty Iguazu Falls and seeing Rio de Janeiro, the "Cidade Maravilhosa" from air, land and sea.

Read on to find out more about this adventure, as well as the new ways to explore our region with Akorn and check out our last-minute availabilities in Brazil and Galapagos for the holidays.

Our Recommendation of the Month Wings over Argentina, Chile and Brazil

My trip last month featured most of the destinations included in our new wings over Argentina, Chile and Brazil itinerary. This is an exciting 12-day adventure limited to 11 guests, enabling your clients to visit three vibrant countries, experience their history, culture and culinary treasures first hand. Our Wings Over itineraries feature private charter flights between destinations, allowing the convenience of visiting remote places with less time spent getting there. Discover Mendoza's winelands, Patagonia's epic landscapes and stunning Iguazu Falls by private chartered flights that dissolve the distances between destinations. Contact us to book it and enjoy it!

Our Recommendation of the Month Get Enchanted! in Cartagena

While being in Cartagena is an experience itself, our Colombia team has designed a journey to take you and especially your children through the places that inspired the famous animated movie "Encanto". Walk the streets dressed in flowers, pamper your palate with delicious empanadas, take photographs with the people who inspired the movie characters, and stay at the iconic hacienda Bambusa, which plays an important part in the movie! Without a doubt, this fun experience will allow you to interactively blend Colombia's beautiful traditions and warm spirit with making your children's dreams come true.

WHAT'S NEW IN SOUTH AMERICA

Christmas and the New Year in Brazil, the Galapagos or Patagonia

Home to vivid rhythms, endemic fauna and mesmerizing backdrops, Brazil, the Galapagos and Patagonia are epic destinations that will make for an unforgettable holiday! This is especially true when talking about December Holidays.

At Akorn we are happy to share that we still have availability for you to spend Christmas or the New Year, embracing the essence and beauty of iconic destinations. Click below to see the options that we have prepared for you in:

Brazil, Chile and Ecuador

More Connectivity in South America

- Chile: full vaccination card (last dose taken at least 14 days before arrival, a must for all eligible travelers 18 years and older) or a negative PCR taken 48 hours prior to boarding flight to Chile. Entry to Easter Island requires vaccination card and 48-hour negative PCR.
- Colombia: full vaccination card (last dose taken at least 14 days before arrival, a must for all eligible travelers 18 years and older) or a negative PCR taken 72 hours (or antigen 48 hours) prior to boarding flight to Colombia and health affidavit.

YOU'RE MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN SOUTH AMERICA

In South America, we have with several philanthropy projects throughout the region, and we are always looking for ways to become important players, when it comes to preserving and understanding nature and cultures. However, we must say that all our efforts to contribute to a better world wouldn't be possible without the help of our travelers.

How? You will be happy to know that a small contribution of every booking goes right into the philanthropy fund, for one of our philanthropy projects in South America, be it Children of the Rainbow or the Village of the Flowers in Peru or Vidigal Favela in Brazil. This means that booking with us actually makes a difference, and while your clients make their dream trip come true, they are also helping the the less fortunate. We want to thank you for being part of this and making the world a better place.

Remember that you can always make a donation by clicking on the link above to keep on supporting these projects

We are also working on new projects in the region. We will keep you updated.

WHAT'S HOT IN SOUTH AMERICA

Somebody Feed Phil in South America

If you have been following 'Somebody Feed Phil' on Netflix, do not miss the three episodes where Phil ventures through South America enjoying the local food with a glass of Malbec in hand. Should you wish to retrace his footsteps or embark on your own culinary adventure through the continent, you are in luck as we have the perfect itinerary for you!

Buenos Aires: season 2, episode 3

Phil falls in love with Argentina's dulce de leche, choripán and beef. He also learns how to be a true Gaucho, and how to dance tango.

Rio de Janeiro: season 4, episode 1

Phil doesn't only enjoy the rhythm of Carnival, but the flavors of Brazil's fruit, feijoada, caipirinhas, and visits a local churrasqueria.

Santiago: season 6, episode 4

With the Andes in the background, Phil goes along Santiago's route of the sandwich, a very popular dish in the Chilean capital.

Vivian Gaymer Visits Patagonia Camp

Vivian recently strapped on her boots and visited barren Patagonia while staying at the Patagonia Camp. She is our Customer Service Specialist at Akorn Chile, and these are her impressions from her latest trip:

"It was a challenging few days with changing weather, while experiencing the most wonderful landscapes and feeling adventurous, embracing the beautiful views of Torres del Paine National Park. I loved being back at the camp every day to sit back and enjoy the open-air private jacuzzi, while tasting a delicious calafate sour.

Of course, Patagonia Camp provided excellent service, food and attention to detail, so I definitely recommend it to all the adventure-hearted travelers out there."

OUR EXPERT ADVICE ON ECUADOR'S AMAZONIA

About the Amazonia

Population: 740,000 people spread in 6 provinces

Weather: 30°C (86°F), average

Good for: nature, birds, culture and outdoors

Francisco Clavijo

"I am Francisco, Tour Consultant at Akorn Ecuador. As a passionate traveler who has been to almost every corner of my country, when I'm not planning trips, I enjoy spending my free time photographing, cooking, cycling, or with my family and friends, all of which have allowed me to understand and love all the elements of the quaint Ecuadorian culture and embrace them in many different ways. For this, I have developed a strong conviction of how underestimated my country is in terms of biodiversity, landscapes, outdoor activities, cultural wealth, etc. Ecuador has so much to offer and yet it has not captured the attention of many potential visitors, as much as it deserves. With this in mind, I have taken it on as my duty to help travelers see see this region through my eyes and uncover the wonders it has to offer in each itinerary I design."

OUR EXPERT ADVICE ON ECUADOR'S AMAZONIA

My Favorite Local Thing to Do in the Amazonia:

There is nothing like going for a hike and enjoying that sensation of being surrounded by vast nature in an untouched forest. Embracing the sounds and scents of the rainforest, every time help me realize how lucky I am to be there.

What to See or Read before your Trip to the Amazonia?

"Birds of Western Ecuador: A Photographic Guide" by Nick Athanas and "The Living Forest" by Marc Silver - The Guardian.

Top 5 Things to Do in the Amazonia:

1. Birdwatching.
2. Sharing valuable time with the members of an indigenous community.
3. Taking in the immensity of the rainforest from an observation tower.
4. Exploring the jungle on a canoe.
5. Meditating and doing yoga in the middle of nowhere!

My Favorite Hotel to Stay at?

Napo Wildlife Center and La Selva Lodge, where the food is also excellent!

What to Bring on Your Trip:

Number one thing will always be a camera and a good set of binoculars, especially if you are in search of birds (although the lodges we work with usually have this available for you to use).

Don't forget a light waterproof jacket, comfortable footwear for trekking, and insect repellent will always come handy.

My Local Advice:

Although the minimum stay is three nights, I think that four nights are just perfect to enjoy this destination to its fullest, so if you can extend your plans for one more day, this will definitely pay off. Of course, while you are here, try to make the most of your stay, by signing up for the early morning activities, as this is the time of the day when several species of birds show up and trill for you. If you are a photography enthusiast, remember to bring your camera lenses and other electronic goods, if possible, in a good waterproof case. When you are here, make sure to try local fruits and vegetables, you will be surprised by all the new colors and flavours you can discover!

HAPPY TRAVELERS IN SOUTH AMERICA

Akorn ARGENTINA

"It was a great trip! The lodging in Argentina was terrific. The transfers and hosts were great and much appreciated. The tours and activities were the right level of effort and variety, and were an excellent opportunity to experience and take in the essence of Buenos Aires."

Akorn BRAZIL

"We really had the most incredible time. Akorn was flawless. The guides were all excellent! They really tailored plans to our needs and made everything run smoothly. We were very happy with the hotels. They were all unique and special in their own way. We liked the Hotel Das Cataratas the most, but again they were all great. The airport transfers were SUPER helpful, including those in the airports when we had the long layovers. We had so many good meals on the trip! It's hard to pinpoint just one, though the grilled seafood platter at Satirycon in Rio was especially memorable. Thank you so much for all you did to make this trip happen. I can't wait to plan our next one."

Akorn CHILE

"I just received an email with absolutely glowing reviews for the job your team did in Chile for her family. She was so happy with everything and called it a trip of a lifetime. She shared many details with me and noted that the guides were terrific. Vivian's help with the Mobility Pass was extremely helpful and they were grateful for her assistance. Thank you again for a job well done. You made me look like a star! I very much appreciate it."

Akorn ECUADOR

"Galapagos was so extraordinarily different! Each island is unique, like safari on water- and I prefer safari on land!! Akorn were exceptional. Can't say enough good things about them. They took care of everything before we knew we needed something! Carlos was our guide. He was phenomenal. He kept us from eating what we are allergic to as we didn't know what was on some of the food. Great food too. You nailed this"

Akorn PERU

"We have just returned to the Netherlands from our trip to Peru, where we were under your guidance. I am writing you to say we absolutely had a wonderful time! Everything was arranged for us, and all the guides and drivers were amazing. I do like to mention one of your guides in particular, Marisol. She was absolutely the best, she made our stay extra, extra special. Her knowledge, her energy and just everything made our trip amazing. We are very grateful to her!! Please let her know!"

FLAVORS OF SOUTH AMERICA

Stone Crab Chilean Casserole

Blessed with an extensive coast line and important sea currents, it comes as no surprise that Chilean sea food produce is so important! And thanks to the unique South American flavors, they have managed to create palate-pampering dishes, that will keep you wondering: Why haven't I had this before?!

Pour yourself a glass of tasty Chilean wine, as you get hands on and bring to life this tasty casserole! Enjoy!

What you will need

- 1 yellow onion
- 1 tablespoon of vegetable oil
- 2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon of sweet paprika
- 1/4 teaspoon of cumin
- 450 grams of shredded crab meat
- 1/2 cup of white wine, preferably Sauvignon Blanc
- 150 grams of soaked soft bread
- 1/2 cup of heavy cream
- 2 tablespoons of breadcrumbs
- Slices of cheese

Instructions

1. In a bowl, tear apart the bread and soak in milk, mash with a fork to obtain a paste.
2. Peel and chop the onion into small cubes.
3. Preheat the oven to 200C or 400F.
4. In a medium saucepan, heat a tablespoon of oil, add the onion, cook stirring over medium-high heat for 5 minutes until golden brown, add the garlic, paprika, cook, salt, and pepper. Cook for 1 minute, stirring.
5. Add the crab meat, stir. Add the wine and cook until evaporated, a couple of minutes. Lower the heat to medium, add the soaked bread, discard the unabsorbed milk.
6. Mix well and add the heavy cream, taste and adjust the seasoning. Let thicken if necessary.
7. Place in a baking dish spread well. Sprinkle with breadcrumbs and lay the cheese slices.
8. Bake for 20 minutes or until golden and bubbly.
9. Serve hot with Chilean wine, and enjoy.

Recently, Francisco Mosquera, Marketing Coordinator, went on board the M/Y Kontiki on the Ecuadorian Coast. This new yacht is a great opportunity for guests wishing to explore the cultural and natural beauty of this region, with the benefit of comfortable accommodation and a wide array of active explorations.
