

Malaria Free Safari

ITINERARY

1 Arrive in Johannesburg and transfer to the Waterberg Region

Upon arrival at O.R. Tambo International Airport, clearing customs and immigration, you will be met by our representative and transferred to the Waterberg/Marakele Region. The transfer time is approximately three hours and 30 minutes.

The Waterberg is an internationally recognised natural heritage site with superb vistas, mountains, gorges, crystal clear streams, and rolling bushveld hills. The region has been recognized worldwide and awarded the status of World Biosphere Reserve by UNESCO and is an example of a savannah biosphere. The Waterberg is also home to the incredibly beautiful Marakele National Park which today hosts one of the world's largest breeding colonies of the endangered Cape Vulture.

3 Transfer to Madikwe Private Game Reserve

Meet your representative in the reception area of your accommodation and transfer to Madikwe Private Game Reserve. The transfer time is approximately three hours.

Madikwe is widely acknowledged as being one of the finest conservation areas in South Africa. The sheer, unadulterated wilderness of this place is breath-taking, and it is one of the few wildlife reserves in Southern Africa that is malaria free. The reserve lies within a transition region between Lowveld bushveld and Kalahari thornveld. As a result the region is host to an incredible diversity of species from both ecosystems. Besides many other wildlife species, the Big Five can also be found in the reserve. Brown hyena, cheetahs and aardwolf are some of the rarest animals and can be seen here.
